

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT TAYLOR'S FLAME

WHAT IS FLAME?

FLAME (First-Year Learning and Mentoring) is established to assist mentees in achieving personal learning goals and settle into University life and studies.

WHO ARE MENTEES?

You are! Mentees are newly enrolled First-Year Students who are automatically registered to participate in FLAME.

YOU ARE

WHAT CAN MENTEES TALK ABOUT IN FLAME?

- Issues faced during the first two weeks of university life.
- Academic progress and challenges.
- Your learning goals and how to accomplish them.
- Other areas of support required.

HOW CAN FLAME BENEFIT YOU?

- Develop nurturing relationships with peers and mentor.
- Develop a sense of belongingness.
- Experience a supportive and safe environment.
- To have a clear and guided learning development plan.

WHO IS MY MENTOR?

An academic staff who is a member of the faculty you are enrolled in will be assigned to be your mentor. Further information on the details of your mentor and other relevant information pertaining to FLAME will be shared in future communications and during the live orientation session.

HOW MANY MENTEES ARE IN 1 FLAME GROUP?

There will be 35 mentees to a mentor in one FLAME group.

WHEN WILL I MEET MY MENTOR?

You will be officially introduced to your mentor virtually at the "Introduction to FLAME" session during Orientation Week.

HOW FREQUENTLY ARE FLAME MEETINGS HELD?

Other than the introductory meeting during your virtual Orientation Week, there will be three subsequent meetings that will be held between Semester 1 to Semester 2. FLAME will end in Semester 2. If you require further support from your mentors, one-on-one meetings can be arranged directly with your mentors.

All the best in your FLAME Journey!
