A: Your eVAL is valid for 6 months therefore you need to report to Taylor's at least 1 month before the expiry of the eVAL to enable the Student Pass endorsement process. Failing to do so, you will have to reapply another eVAL to the next available intake. Remember the following:

- If you are from a country not requiring SEV: latest to enter 1 month before your eVAL expires.

IMPORTANT NOTE: eVAL that has been used to apply for the SEV will become obsolete, so if you do not perform the journey with the SEV applied, you will have to reapply for another eVAL (you cannot use the same eVAL to reapply SEV for the 2nd time).

Q16: What if I'm using my Taylor's Foundation / Diploma forecast result to apply for a Bachelor Degree Programme but my Actual Result does not meet the Entry Requirement. What do I need to do?

A: Scenario 1: Failed and need to re-sit for 1 Module(s)

You may come in with Tourist Pass, take the exam and exit Malaysia thereafter. If you passed the exam, you may continue to progress into the Bachelor Programme, once the eVAL is approved and released by EMGS. You may then come in with eVAL and SEV in hand (refer to Q13-15 above).

A: Scenario 2: Failed and need to repeat the Semester

The eVAL Application for the Bachelor Programme that is currently in progress will be forfeited and cancelled, and you will have to reapply a new eVAL for the previous Foundation / Diploma Programme. You will need to resubmit payment and documents to restart the entire eVAL process. It is against the law to allow you to use a Bachelor Programme's Student Pass to commence classes for a Foundation / Diploma Programme. Thus, you can only commence classes for the Foundation / Diploma Programme after the eVAL for the Foundation / Diploma Programme is approved and released. If your Forecast Result is at the borderline of entry to the Bachelor Programme, it is advisable that you wait for the Actual Result before applying for the Bachelor Programme to avoid a further delay in both your Foundation / Diploma & Bachelor programme commencement.

Q17: I've decided to change to another programme again while my eVAL application is still in progress, can I request to amend the eVAL application to the new programme so that I do not have to pay the eVAL application fees again?

A: No, the Visa Application Fees has been utilized for the eVAL Application for the initial programme, and EMGS fees made is not refundable / transferable. You will need to resubmit payment and documents to restart the entire eVAL process.

IMPORTANT NOTE: You are only allowed to change programme ONCE while you are studying in Taylor's.

Q18: If I still have other queries, who should I contact?

A: If it's about your enrolment of progression programme, please write to progression@taylors.edu.my
